Winston Summers

Web Developer

Junior Web Developer excited to grow on existing skill sets and bring value to the team and company. Excelling at researching problems to find solutions, not giving up until the job is done.

Experienced leading small teams and training new hires; when a deadline needs to be met, I am frequently the one management comes to to lead the charge. Communication is one of my most valuable assets; a skill that I have refined on the job, working with clients and colleagues alike.
